Thanks Dave, I'll pass the info to Gee and her group. I know that the DEP has top billing, but after I spoke to their group about you, they decided to make you their goto person. That's why they had me put the link for you on our web site. Interesting group of ladies. I'm glad I'm not expert enough to answer their questions.

Lenny, you asked about the dumping of snow in the Passaic River. I hope we have no need for massive snow removal remaining this year! FYI, the EPA is not involved in snow disposal as a general rule. The New Jersey DEP has a snow removal policy which can be found at the following link:

http://www.nj.gov/dep/dwq/pdf/snow_removal.pdf. There is a phone number on the summary fact sheet which may be of help. Apologies for the delay in replying. Hope this little bit of information is somewhat helpful.
